Johnson donated Skee-Horse to assist commission in developing first government sponsored snowmobile safety program in Illinois. Lectures, films, demonstrations and a model ordinance will be available to local organizations in coming weeks.

Lake County Is Developing A Snowmobile Safety Program

A snowmobile safety program, believed to be the first government-sponsored project of its type in Illinois, is being developed by the Lake County Safety Commission. During the weeks to come the commission will offer local organizations lectures, films, demonstrations, handbooks on safety, and a copy of a model ordinance covering snowmobile operations.

Director Jerry Klebe says the fantastic growth of snowmobiling has created a demand for programs dealing with safe handling of the machines. "The personal injuries we know of were attributed to driver error, not mechanical failure," Klebe said. "We believe an educational program, similar to those conducted to instruct other motor vehicle operators can do much to enhance the good image of this new winter sport."

Johnson Motors of Waukegan, manufacturers of the Skee-Horse snowmobile, last week donated a machine to the safety commission for use in developing the program. The presentation was made to County Board Chairman Robert W. Depke by Norman Schultz of the Johnson Motors public relations staff just prior to the safety commission's annual meeting Jan. 12, at Brae Loch Country Club.

Depke, a snowmobile owner, said he is most enthusiastic about

Coulson Heart Chairman

Robert Coulson of Waukegan, state senator from the 31st Illinois district, has been named chairman of the 1970 Lake County Heart Fund drive.

The announcement was made by Charles E. Dykes, general chairman for the Chicago area drive.

During Feb. Heart Month, Coulson will lead a campaign to raise $72,000 in 22 Lake County communities. In 1969 the Heart Association of Lake County raised $62,723.

Coulson has been a leader in many Lake County civic and service organizations, including the Young Men's Christian Association, Family Service, and March of Dimes (chairman in 1969). A member of the Illinois House of Representatives for three terms, Coulson presently is serving his third term in the Illinois Senate and second term as assistant majority leader. He is a former mayor of Waukegan and is currently Republican state central committeeman to the twelfth congressional district.

Heart Fund contributions will support heart screening programs this spring in several Lake County schools and a large Waukegan corporation. Zion-Benton Township and Lake Zurich High Schools and Carmel High School for Girls have been selected.

Antioch's Project Vietnam will begin its fourth year next month. Since its inception by Antioch post office workers the project has sent thousands of packages to Antioch area youths serving in the Armed Forces overseas.

The package program has grown so well known throughout the nation that it was even reported in the Congressional Record of the United States.

Many other communities in the nation have adopted the program begun by Antioch.

Next month's mailing will be packaged by the Antioch Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Each month some civic, fraternal or political group gets together to mail out the packages.

CLC Using Government Book System

Books in the College library are arranged according to the Library of Congress Classification scheme.

Most students and many faculty members are accustomed to libraries arranged according to the Dewey Decimal system but it seems that everyone is making the change to the Library of Congress without any problems.

Using this scheme enables us to take advantage of cataloging and research activities carried on by the National Library and prevents our duplicating work here that has been done at the Library of Congress. The scheme is based on a number and letter combination, similar to the Illinois license plates, which permit us to go in to great depth when necessary.

Probably the most important reason for our using this Library of Congress scheme is that many large university libraries either use Library of Congress now or are in the process of changing over to it. When the College of Lake County student arrives at Illinois Circle campus, his familiarity with the Library of Congress scheme will enable him to make a smooth transition.

Seating capacity in the Learning Resource Center is 159. Most of these stations are individual study carrels offering each student

Antioch Village Board Okays East Road Route

The Antioch Village Board Monday night voted to approve the eastern corridor for the extension of Rte. 53.

Mayor Raymond Toft ordered a resolution to be prepared supporting the eastern corridor and ruling out entirely the central corridor that would cut the town in half.

The action taken by the board unified the front to be presented to state road experts at a hearing to be held Thursday evening in the Lake County Fairgrounds.

Earlier in the day the Antioch Chamber of Commerce had selected the eastern corridor along Deep Lake Road or further east running straight to the State Line.

Last week the Antioch Plan Commission had adopted a resolution recommending the eastern corridor.

About 30 persons attended the meeting to get in on the discussion of the route extension.

Christian Schultz, representative of Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association presented a petition signed by 250 persons wanting the corridor west of the village.

At the meeting the board received the recommendation and resolutions of both the Chamber and the Plan Commission.

Frederick Walpole presented a petition signed by 250 citizens, homeowners and businessmen, stating that the state should either go as far west of the village limits or east as possible.

After receiving all of the petitions the village board adjourned for 15 minutes to discuss the different routes that they felt would best benefit the village.

Toft asked members of the board to state their choices.

Trustee Irving Walsh said he favored the plan to go east as far as possible of Deep Lake Road then straight north to the Wisconsin line.

Trustee Richard Burnette also wanted the Deep Lake Road extension at least a mile-and-a-half from the village limits.

Arthur Wegner then spoke up and asked the trustees to give more definite answers.

"We don't want to hear, close, or as near to," he said. "Don't be wishy-washy. Tell us something definite, one way or the other."

Trustee Vern Barnstable then expressed his opinion that it should be as far east as possible which brought a comment from Sam Lombardo who said:

"Please be decisive. We want actual facts."

Village Attorney Edward Jacobs stated that the west corridor was too far out and added that the state wants to put the highway close to a dense population area "away from the community, but yet to service the community."

Trustee George Bartlett said he was in favor of the eastern route and objected to the other two because they would act as a barrier for further development of the area.

Trustee Robert Willson said the center route was the least acceptable and that the industrial area is fine as it is. He felt that the eastern route favored the community and the industry the best, pointing out that residents of the village could be on both sides of the road.

Toft pointed out that he didn't believe anything would be done for the next ten years, but if the state went through the eastern corridor it would help the village in general traffic and revenue

Bell Vital To Antioch Economy

The Bell System, during 1969, contributed significantly to the economy of the Antioch Area, Don Amundsen, Illinois Bell Manager, said today.

"Expenditures and payments here, including purchases from local suppliers by Illinois Bell and Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, were slightly over a half-million dollars. Of this a - mount, $469,306 was paid in wages. Local taxes, including personal property and real estate taxes, total $23,967 in the Antioch exchange area."

The Company's expenditures for new construction, building additions and equipment improvements throughout Illinois during 1969 amounted to almost $355 million - or nearly a million dollars a day.

In the Antioch exchange a growth of 560 telephones during 1969 brings the year-end total to 9,100. These telephones originated an estimated 8.1 million-calls during the year, and average of 3.7 calls per telephone per business day.

Last month the Company pro-

Three Cut, Bottle Hits Auto

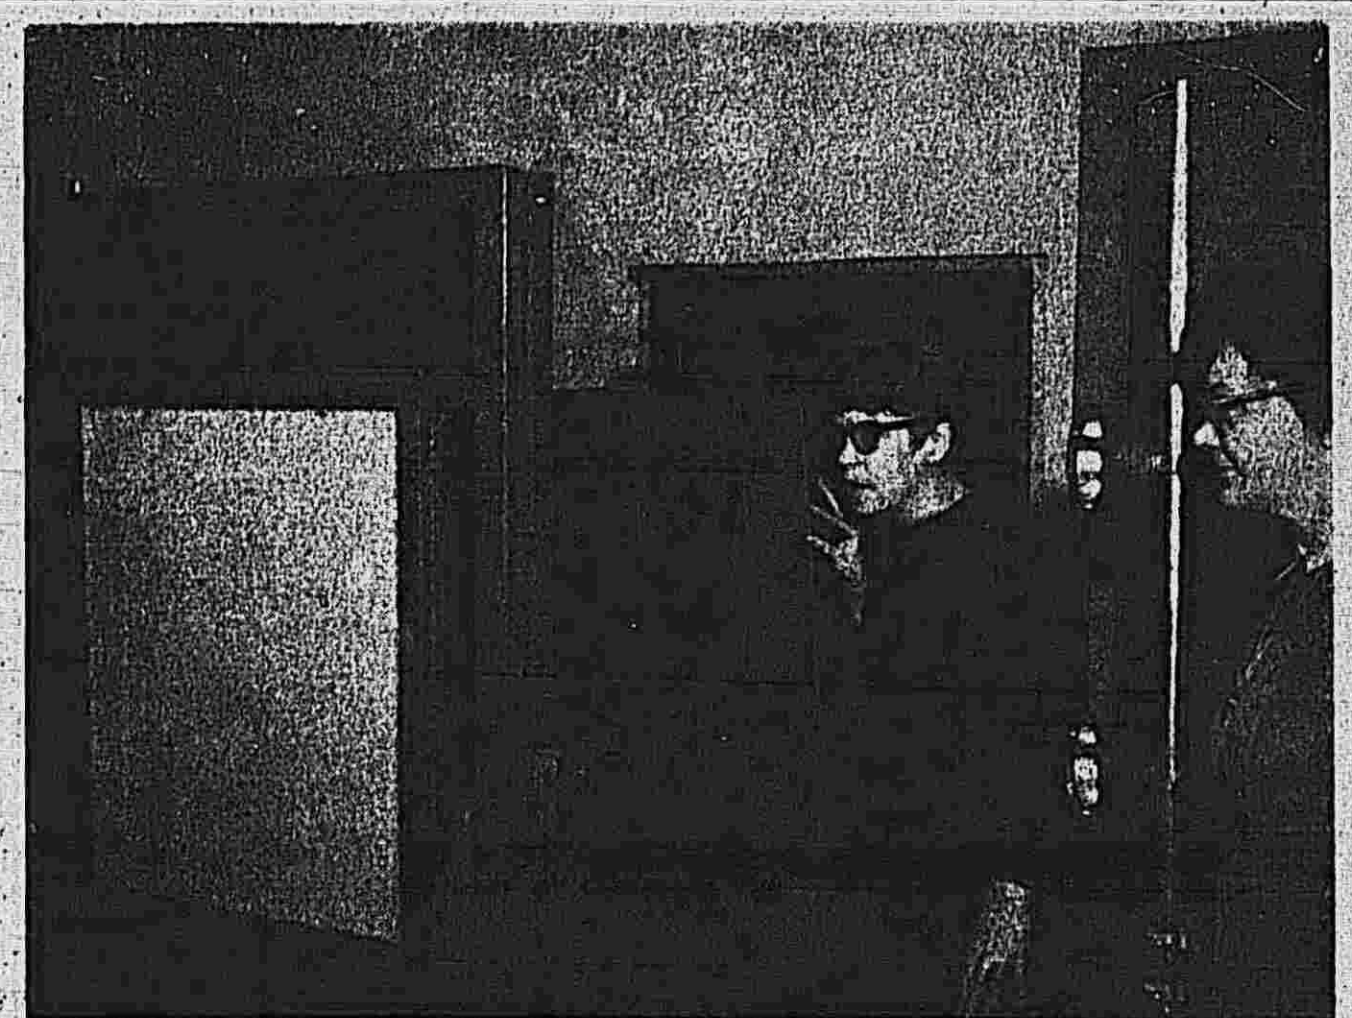

Jeannie McCarthy, 22, of RFD 3, Box 756, Waters Road, Antioch, and two passengers in her auto were cut by flying glass late Sunday when a pop bottle was thrown through the windshield of her auto.

She told sheriff's deputies that the incident occurred as she was driving north on Lake Avenue at Wilcox Road. The bottle was thrown from a passing auto.

She said that she was cut on the left cheek and glass also went into her left eye.

The two passengers, John Kelley, 19, also of the Waters Road address and Joan Hauldren, 17, of RFD 4, Box 268, North Avenue, Antioch, were also cut and bruised by flying glass.

The three were treated at St. Theresa Hospital in Waukegan.

Plate Deadline Is Near

A little less than four weeks now remain for motorists to get their 1970 license plates mounted on their vehicles, Secretary of State Paul Powell pointed out today.

The deadline for displaying the 1970 plates is midnight Sunday, February 15. The plates must be on the vehicles by that time, Powell warned, not merely applied for or being carried inside the car.

Secretary Powell urged motorists to submit their applications without delay, adding that processing time plus the fact that the plates are third class mail may result in an interval of two or three weeks between receipt of the application and delivery of the plates.

For motorists planning to buy their plates at Secretary of State's office over-the-counter facilities in Springfield and Chicago

Welton Road Head

Kenneth E. Welton, assistant superintendent of highways for Lake County has been named acting superintendent to succeed Melvin E. Amstutz. He specifically cited the proposed $266 million highway construction and improvement project approved by the board recently. Amstutz was to have been a consultant on the 5-year program after retirement this month.

Board Chairman Robert W. Depke announced that county finance director Robert Morrison and a special attorney have been directed to work on the financial aspects of the massive road program.

The board Tuesday approved a resolution to name the lakefront highway Melvin E. Amstutz expressway.

Grooming Revision Vote Wins

Antioch High School students have called overwhelmingly for a revision of the school's grooming code.

But students do not want the code completely abolished, it developed.

A vote taken last Friday found 920 in favor of revision with 142 voting to abolish the code altogether. Twenty-one of the students had no opinion.

Each class had a one-hour meeting last Friday in which the pros and cons of the proposal were extensively gone into and the vote taken.

A committee is expected to formulate new recommendations and present them to the superintendent and the Board of Education to determine whether revisions can be made.

Where Do You Find Local Government

(Second in a series of articles on significance of local government today. This one examines local governments today, as they serve the people within them.)

By L. E. AHLWEDE

Once upon a time we had local government.

It's a good question whether or not local government might become a fairy tale.

Where do you find it? Well, certainly you do find it in small towns. You find it in townships and in smaller county government.

You find it, basically, wherever the people have relatively easy access to officials who conduct governmental affairs in a given locality.

This certainly does not apply to federal government, where only the right to vote for the president and vice president, and for senators and representatives in Congress represent the citizens' direct interest and influence in government. The vast majority of people may not see their representatives in federal government even at election time, except in the newspapers and on television.

It is much this way in state government. Very few people within the state see their representatives or state governmental officials with any regularity. So it is, too, in large counties.

The people's access to county officials and board members varies with the type and size of the county. In less populated areas, and where county supervisors are also township supervisors — as has been the case in downstate Illinois counties — citizens access to officials is reasonably good.

At township government levels, the impact of local government begins to manifest itself. Township officials generally are well known in their communities and available for citizen contacts. Townships hold regular board meetings. Moreover, the annual town meeting gives the people of the township the opportunity and right to discuss and vote upon the operation of their local government.

The fact that township government is both local and district-oriented gives it a key position in the development of inter-governmental kinship. It can serve as the catalyst for all local governmental cooperation and improvement.

EDITORIAL

A United Front

The Antioch Plan Commission, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and the Antioch Village Board has chosen the eastern corridor as the one most beneficial to the area for the extension of Rte. 53.

We agree with this action and applaud the united front that will be presented to the state road bigwigs from these three groups.

It would seem to us that the eastern corridor would give Antioch the benefit of traffic having to come through the village to go west of our area.

This would also be of benefit to merchants who otherwise would miss this additional business if the road were to be extended west of the village.

Another reason for not going west would be, in our opinion, the new Antioch upper grade school being built there and the added danger to our children.

The corridor that would cut the town in half—the central corridor—we believe to be completely out of the question.

The state is going to hold a hearing on the matter on Thursday night at the Lake County Fairgrounds. Resolutions are fine but people are better, in our opinion.

We urge everyone who can, to attend the hearing so that the state knows that Antioch means business about the selection of the road corridor.

Let's show them a real united front.

The Hidden Disease

As a nation we face up to the facts about two great killers, heart disease and cancer.

But we turn our faces from the ravages of the third worst menace to our nation's health—alcoholism.

We don't look squarely at its pernicious effects; we just deny them. So the bulk of America's 6½ million men and women with alcoholism continue to suffer in secret, as do their 25-30 million wives, husbands, sons, daughters, parents and associates.

Are we truly afraid to face the facts? Or does problem drinking so trouble us and so puzzle us that we simply do not know how best to cope?

The National Council on Alcoholism, whose Alcoholism Information Month has local support through the Lake County Council on Alcoholism, believes that most people are not aware of what can be done to help the problem drinker.

One poll discloses that most of us still think as people did in the dark ages—that the alcoholic drinks because he wants to and can, if he loves us, stop any time he chooses. Not so.

Through no fault of their own, problem drinkers have fallen victim to a tragic illness. They suffer from a painful and progressive disease, which, if unchecked, inevitably will lead to insanity or premature death. Most of them are still functioning in the community and have jobs and families.

Probably 90 per cent of them have taken no constructive action and have received no help likely to result in their recovery.

Ignorant of the true nature of their problem, they deteriorate physically, emotionally and socially before our eyes. They leave us puzzled. The local council can help us un-puzzle ourselves.

The council holds that the problem drinker has the same right to his human dignity as the man or woman sick with diabetes or pneumonia.

It believes that an enlightened attitude toward the alcoholic's unhappy plight will enable the community to assure his receiving the skilled help he needs as desperately as does the most acute heart or cancer patient.

The council can help you protect your family's health, home and breadwinner's job by detecting alcoholism early.

Call the council.

It is open around the clock.

Dear Editor:

As 1969 chairman of Operation Snowball for the Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago, I wish to express sincere appreciation for your editorial support of this program.

Patients in every Chicago area state mental hospital and nursing home received gifts prior to Christmas. Hundreds of volunteers wrapped more than 13,000 packages, while other volunteers distributed these gifts at the hospitals. Cash donations are still flowing into the Snowball Fund to help provide patient entertainment throughout the year.

These acts of charity could not have been accomplished without broad press coverage such as you provided.

On behalf of the mentally ill who benefit from Operation Snowball, thank you.

Cordially,

Dear Editor:

It sure was marvelous to see how the PM&L players adjusted to their new theater at the Antioch Country Club.

The acting in ANY WEDNESDAY was very good. Dr. Al Bucar's performance was outstanding as it always is. The part of John brought out his great talent.

The sweet young Carol Brandy was wonderful in the part of Ellen. The young woman who played the part of Dorothy was a true actress (I don't know her name as there is alternate actress for that part).

Duane Wolff who played Cass was also very good.

A lot of the credit for the success of the show is the director, and the stage managers who really work very hard to have everything just right.

Let's support this Theater, they work so very hard to entertain us. We are lucky to have such a fine group among us.

The play still runs for 3 weeks at the Antioch Country Club.

posed a package of rate adjustments to the Illinois Commerce Commission. Amundsen explained, "Our operating costs have been driven up by steep and prolonged inflation, 15.5 per cent above last year's, with no end in sight. The rate increase being considered by the Commission will be the first general increase in more than sixteen years—during which the cost of living has risen more than 37 per cent. We can no longer hold the line against these rising costs, without increasing our prices."

"It may seem contradictory for Illinois Bell to be seeking an increase in local rates when AT&T is making reductions in interstate long distance rates. But the economics of long-haul and local communications are very different. Many of the technological advancements that have brought economies and lower rates to the long distance field simply don't apply to local service."

Last month AT&T filed the 25th and largest interstate rate cut since coast-to-coast service began in 1915. The new rates effective New Year's Day are expected to save $10 million yearly for phone users in Illinois. Telephone users who dial their own out-of-state calls will benefit; "the bargain night calling" period is extended, a new after midnight dialed direct, one minute service permits a long distance call from any Illinois Bell telephone to any point coast-to-coast for 25 cents or less.

'Any Wednesday' In Second Week

January 23 and 24 mark the second week of production for PM&L's comedy "Any Wednesday," directed by Ken Smouse of Antioch.

The show, being presented at Antioch Country Club Playhouse located at Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Road, can also be seen Jan. 30 and 31 and Feb. 6 and 7 at 8:30 p.m. For dinner and theatre reservations call 395-3000 or 395-1217. General admission tickets are also available.

The cast of "Any Wednesday," stars Dr. Al Bucar of Antioch, Carol Brandy of Waukegan, Duane Wolff of Zion, Pat Baum of Lake Villa, and Betty Waite of Antioch.

Al plays John Cleves, a business man with a "friend" whom he visits every Wednesday night. This is Carol's first starring role for PM&L. As Ellen Gordon, John's friend, she portrays a girl who "gives the appearance of a hummingbird but has the heart of a little brown hen."

Duane makes his starring debut as Cass Henderson, the young man from Akron who discovers Ellen living in the executive suite. He has also appeared in Zion's Passion Play. Pat and Betty alternate the role of Dorothy Cleves, John's unsuspecting wife. Both are novices to the acting world. Betty handled dinner reservations in her job as hostess at the Country Club.

Garden Club Will Meet On Jan. 26

The Antioch Garden Club will meet on Jan. 26 at 12:30 p.m. in the Antioch Savings and Loan Building, with an outstanding member of the Kenosha Men's Garden Club on the program.

He is N. Roeder, well known in this area for his many achievements in the gardening field. The club members are looking forward to his program entitled "Growing Chrysanthemums in the Garden". Roeder is also an authority on roses.

If his slides on roses that the club members viewed last year are any indication of the wealth of material and gardening information that Roeder shares with his audiences, then his slides and lecture this year on chrysanthemums should present a most spectacular show next Monday.

Preceding the program, President Mrs. Clarence Spiering will welcome the club members to their first meeting in 1970 and conduct the usual business meeting.

Refreshments will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Anthony Mignarelli and Mrs. J. Patrovsky, Sr., at 12:30 p.m.

Legion Auxiliary

By DEL JAHNEKE

The 10th District Juniors of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold their meeting at the Round Lake American Legion Home, at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 23, 1970. Mrs. Richard Stastay, Mundelein, District Junior Activities Chairman, states that all juniors in Lake County are welcome to attend this meeting, regardless of whether they belong to an organized group or not. Daughters of either an American Legionnaire, or a deceased veteran, are eligible to be a junior member of the American Legion Auxiliary, and can range in age from infancy to eighteen years of age. There are many projects, available to juniors in various age categories in the Americanism, Choral, Foreign Relations, History, Publicity and Rehabilitation Programs.

Mrs. Bernard De Vries, Antioch Unit Junior Activities Chairman, and Mrs. Ray Rathmann, President, plan to go to this District Juniors meeting. They request that all juniors wishing to attend this event should contact them.

Auxiliary members will be saddened to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. James T. Phelan of Lincoln, Illinois, the Department (state) Junior Past President. Mrs. Phelan died on New Year's Day. She served as state President this past year. Survivors include her husband, and three married daughters, all active auxiliary members.

At the Jan. 12th meeting of the Antioch-American Legion Auxiliary No. 748, held in the Antioch American Legion Home, several contributions were made.

A donation was sent to the Americanism Seminar Fund, thus enabling the Antioch Unit to sponsor any eligible junior high or high school teacher of political science wishing to earn three graduate credits by attending this seminar. This Seminar is held at Freedom's Foundation, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania for three weeks in July. The Illinois American Legion Auxiliary donates $400.00 for each teacher taking this course. All teachers must meet qualifications and the winning contestants are judged on a competitive basis. Mrs. Walter Hills is the Antioch unit Americanism Chairman.

Mrs. Bernard Stadick, Junior Past President, asked the Unit to pay all past president's parley dues, thus making the unit 100% in this program. The past president's parley program provides nursing scholarships, money for the maintenance of the veteran's craft exchange, and small creature comforts for hospitalized veteran women patients. The 10th District American Legion Auxiliary also annually sponsors a picnic for all Downey Hospital patients in August.

Miss Hagstrom is a graduate of Antioch High School and has attended Northland College in Ashland, Wis. She is employed as a secretary-hair stylist at the Wig Boutique in Antioch.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Roosevelt Academy in Alton, Ill., and a graduate of Wentworth Military Junior College. He is now a student at Northwood Institute in Midland, Michigan.

Named To Editor Post

Don J. McMahon, a sophomore biology major at MacMurray College, has been named assistant editor of the student newspaper, Charybdis, for the year beginning second semester of this year through the end of first semester next fall.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates." These words from Zechariah in the Responsive Reading of the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" will be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

All are welcome to attend services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Beacon Hill, Rte. 173 & Harden, Antioch, Illinois, beginning at 11 a.m.

A passage included in the lesson from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The question, What is Truth, is answered by demonstration,—by healing both disease and sin; and this demonstration shows that Christian healing confers the most health and makes the best men." For Ladies' Only...

By Sally

As a rule, I find there's nothing in all the world quite so flattering to me as solid evidence that an internationally famous enterprise has my interests at heart. And, receiving a letter from such an important concern is usually, a grand way to start a new year. So, my year should have received a marvelous beginning when a prominent designer of kitchen ranges took time out to drop a line expressing an interest in how I was making out with the one I'm using.

However, his letter only served to remind me of the long ago—and set off a chain of thoughts which, following down the years, led me straight back to the kitchen of my childhood—and the good old dependable "cook stove"—as all kitchen ranges were then called.

I'll have to admit that such a stove wasn't beautiful—by today's standards. Back then, all stoves were solid black—with the more elegant ones sporting a bit of nickel on the oven door and, perhaps, some of the shining trim on the "warming oven."

DO YOU remember such a compartment—placed over the stove? YOU DO? Then, I'm sure you, too, remember what a thrill it was to hurry home from school on a cold January afternoon to find a slice of apple pie and a wedge of half melted cheese waiting in the warming oven. Or, perhaps there had been "company folks" for the noon meal that day. If so, then a remainder of the meal also included a small plate with, perhaps, a piece of fried chicken.

Naturally, it would only be a wing—or the back of the bird. But even so, it was delicious. The old kitchen range served many purposes besides the mere function of preparing meals. Back then, I distinctly recall, no such stove ever set solidly against the wall. No, indeed, there was room to get a small tub behind it—in the interest of comfortable Saturday night bathing. And speaking of that chore, fresh garments reached just the right degree of cozy comfort—when placed on the oven door while a child gingerly performed the task which kept him more or less "socially acceptable."

To remember the old kitchen range is to recall its constant companion—the black, iron teakettle. Has there ever been a tune as soothing as the one which it hummed to itself as, filled with water, it sat all day long on the six-lid stove? I don't think so.

to me, the sound of the gentle refrain was woven in and out of exciting reports of the day's activities at school. It hummed softly when I rushed in to tell Mom that I had a "best friend"—who had curls reaching all the way to her waist. The old kettle seemed to offer a song of comfort when the best friend moved away and my heart broke—as only a six-year-old heart can do.

And, a few weeks later when I was pledged to a new "best friend", it seemed to me that the kettle hummed an extra-happy melody.

Years ago, the "family room" was the kitchen—where else? And there, as the winter winds howled at the eaves, the good old range gave off a comfortable glow. The teakettle sang as usual—and, in a huge iron skillet, the popcorn sprang from tight kernels to become a white butter-covered mound of unequalled flavor. (In my opinion, no modern appliance will ever prepare it in such a magnificent manner.)

Kitchens, large in those days, always had room for a big, oval dining table at one end. This served many purposes—such as becoming a desk around which young students gathered to wrestle with the various problems of doing the home assignments. (A chore which would have been totally unbearable without the comfort afforded by a well-banked fire in the ancient "cook stove.")

Well, I must admit I didn't really intend to go on and on about an out-dated kitchen stove. Perhaps I wouldn't even have mentioned it—except for an opening sentence in the letter I received from this internationally famous maker of beautiful, modern, stoves. This is how it reads: "Of course, YOU are much too young to remember the early-day kitchen. Back then, a "cook stove" was both ugly and undependable."

Obviously, I am NOT too young to remember. But, I'll never remember the old cook stove as ugly—or undependable.

To me, in memory it will always remain one of the most beautifully dependable parts of a childhood—now long past.

Antioch Falls To Warren

Using their height to great advantage, Warren High School beat Antioch last Friday, 78 to 64 at Warren.

During the first quarter each team played cautious basketball. The result was a well played quarter, with very few mistakes. Warren lead most of the quarter, with the score tied three times. As the quarter ended, Smiley hit a lay up, to give the Warren Blue Devils a 17 to 15 lead.

In the second quarter Warren jumped to a quick six point lead, but the Sequoits bounced back with nine straight points to take their first lead 24 to 21. The Sequoits were playing fine basketball, rebounding, fast breaking and executing some great defense. Keith Bolton lead the scoring with 11 points, thanks to some sharp passes by Steve Bentel. Robarge was the big offensive threat for Warren with 12 points in the first half. His last basket of the second quarter closed the Sequoit lead to 34-29 at half time.

Disaster hit during the 3rd and 4th quarters as Warren gained complete control of the boards. With the score 40-37 in favor of Warren, the Sequoit attack failed. In the last four minutes of the quarter they scored only one basket, as Warren tallied five, three which were rebound baskets, to take an eight point lead 50-42.

The Sequoits continued to hang in close for the first five minutes of the 4th quarter. At this point, Warren went into a stall, forcing the Sequoits out of their zone defense. The score stood 60-53 at this point, but with the Sequoits now in a man to man defense Warren scored seven straight points on three rebound baskets and a free throw, this ending any hopes Antioch had for a victory.

"You can't win, if you don't rebound." It was tough to lose.

as our kids played well enough to win, except for the big item — Rebounds" quoted the Sequoit coach. "We were able to hold our own in the first half and our fast break was effective during the opening half too, but the bottom fell out in the second half as Warren scored 11 of their 19 second half baskets on rebounds," continued coach Andrews.

The leading rebounder for Warren were Robarge with 17, Orthey with 15 and Worcester with 12. The two top rebounders also were their top scorers with 28 and 24 points respectively. Antioch's top rebounders were Bolton with 11 and Sterbenz with 10, Bentel also added six along with

Sophs Lose To Warren

The Sophs journeyed to Warren last Friday night and came away on the short end of a 48-40 score.

The Sequoits lead until a disastrous third quarter in which they scored only three points, all from the charity line.

The loss gives the sophs a 4-4 conference record and a 7-9 overall.

Jennings Competes In Race

EAGLE RIVER, WIS. — The first time Peter Jennings of New York City, radio and TV voice for the American Broadcasting Company and Wide World of Sports, came to Eagle River, it was to cover the World's Championship Snowmobile Derby which has made this resort community so famous.

This year he is returning to Eagle River, not only to again cover, but also to race in the exciting event Jan. 21-25. Jennings notified chairman Red Dobbo and publicity director, Dr. Tom Doyle, that he can handle a machine better than his first try of two years ago, and will participate as a racer.

Other celebrities attending the Eagle River classic this year include Chicago Cubs stars Ron Santo and Glen Beckert; Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, new athletic director for the University of Wisconsin; Green Bay Packers' Bart Starr, Ray Nitschke, Lionel Aldrich, Doug Hart, Jim Weatherwax, and Ken Bowman; Wisconsin Lt. Governor Jack Olson; Miss Wisconsin Cindi Amic Morgan; Dick Bosman, Washington Senators pitcher; and former packer, Max McGee.

Racing begins at Eagle River on Jan. 21, with qualifying rounds to determine the ten top drivers who will compete in the world's championship feature race at 3 p.m. on Jan. 25. The qualifying will be done on the regular oval, and speed-obstacle courses, at the community's Pleasure Island, with the drag racing portion of the test at the nearby Eagle River airport.

Regular classes of the United States Snowmobile Association, sanctioning body for the races, will run in both modified and stock divisions on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 25. Saturday, Jan. 24, has been set aside as Manufacturers' and Family Day. Spectators will be permitted to snow cruise a portion of the world's championship course on this day, using snow machines provided by manufacturers for test and demonstration purposes.

The sporty Eagle River layout includes a one-third mile oval course, steeply banked, and available for excellent spectator viewing from all sides, and a five-mile, partially wooded, speed-obstacle course. The latter course includes a Monza wall, and a series of cloverleaf bridges, all in the open and all providing exciting spectator viewpoints.

Entries closed Jan. 15 for the Eagle River races. A full field of 500 drivers is expected. The races are sponsored by the Eagle River Lions Club.

Village and municipal governments rate "local" classification, with regular meetings which the citizenry can attend, and with aldermen or board members who are neighbors in the community. However, even in such municipalities, idealized home owner groups are often formed in order to keep local representation a more direct and pure function.

In large metropolitan areas, a single city ward may be larger than many villages or municipalities. When totally assembled into city government, such city government hardly qualifies as local government. Even a ward alderman may be remote. The neighborhood precinct captain tends to become the people's representative, but as a political leader, not as the people's spokesman.

Democratic government is never any stronger than the people make it. And, as the people are removed from participation and direct influence upon their government, that government will tend to become weak, corrupt, or dictatorial.

Instead of government becoming more and more centralized, with greater centralized authority and more remote representation of the people, why should it not

Cubs Spring Training Trip Set

Baseball fans will have the opportunity again this spring to get away from the Chicago chill and into the "Sun Country."

The Chicago Cubs and American Airlines have announced a spring training "Fan Club" tour to Arizona from March 14 through March 21. During that time the Cubs will play the Cleveland Indians, San Francisco Giants, Oakland Athletics and the Seattle Pilots.

In addition to excellent box seat tickets to six baseball games and a special cocktail party with Cub manager Leo Durocher, his coaches and Cub players, the tour includes round trip air fare between Chicago and Phoenix via American Airlines Sky Club, twin accommodations, all transfers at Phoenix and bus transportation from the Double Tree Hotel to the Cubs ball park.

Cost for the eight-day "Fan Club" tour is $338 per person (tax included). For more information or booking call American Airlines' Tour Desk at FR 2-7242.

turn the other way?

There is a general concern about the growth of The Establishment. The concern is not restricted to the youth of the nation. And, the concern relates as much or more to the establishment of Big Government as it does to any other institution or operation.

Local government cannot be forsaken. It is a bulwark of democracy. It is where the people can participate, respond, serve and act to keep democracy strong.

And, the people should always be given the right to choose the form of local government they wish. It should be impossible for any form of local government to disintegrate or disappear — whether it be county, township or municipal — without the consent of the people who possess that government.

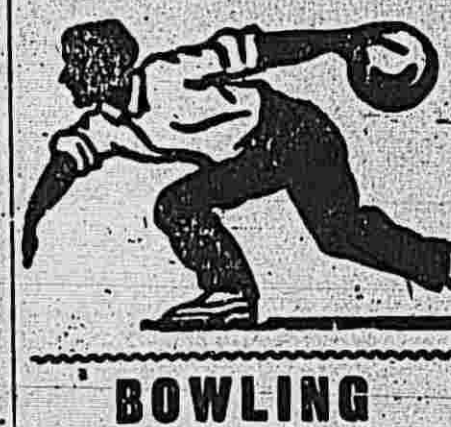

Either legislatively or constitutionally, the state controls the maintaining, modification or disestablishment of local governments. This is a delicate power. It must be handled wisely and well.

Batson Named To Ski Hall Of Fame

LeMoine Batson, of Antioch, has been named to the National Ski Hall of Fame at Ishpeming, Mich., at the age of 70.

Batson was one of five Americans selected at the National Ski Association's 61st annual convention recently at Great Falls, Mont.

Batson, who grew up in Eau Claire, Wis., was an outstanding athlete in high school and went to college at LaCrosse, graduating in 1924.

He took part in competitive skiing from 1917 to 1939 and was the first American-born youth to be named to the United States Olympic team and placed 13th in the 1924 Olympics at Chamonix, France.

He also made the 1932 team and finished 20th at Lake Placid, N. Y., in those games.

He was chairman of the Central Ski Association's organizational meeting in 1925 and served as president in 1939 and 1940.

For 35-years he taught school at Cicero, before retiring.

and added that "there is no doubt that we need a highway."

The mayor then instructed Jacobs to draw up the resolution approving the eastern corridor and objecting to the central and western corridors, to be presented at the Thursday hearing.

Copies of the recommendations of various organizations will also be sent along to the hearing.

Walpole then asked if the village received any news it would give the citizens the right to be heard if any changes are made.

Toft pointed out that if any changes developed he would call an open hearing for all to participate in.

He added that the village board has always been committed to making an all out effort for the betterment of the community.

At the Chamber meeting earlier in the day L. M. Woods, chairman of the plan commission and president of the chamber explained the plan commission's reasons for advocating the eastern corridor.

Grant Spang of Quaker Industries presented his reasons for advocating the western corridor and the chamber members voted 21 out of 28 in favor of the eastern corridor.

A unanimous vote was obtained for completely ruling out the proposed central corridor.

In other village action Burnette presented the fire department merit report for the year.

It showed that the district had a total loss from fires of $63,335 and the village a loss of $9,900.

There were 40 house fires, 60 grass fires, 10 building fires, 8 car fires, 8 miscellaneous fires.

In other action the village granted the Antioch Grade School Board a tag day on Friday, July 3 and the Children's Benefit League of Chicago and Suburbs a tag day for Friday, April 17.

Old Hickory Inn to a pair of wins over Paty's Lounge. Old Hickory also rolled the league high series on games of 956-1002-865-2823. Chuck Doty 184-540 Paty's Lounge.

Chiefs Whip Cudahy

Clarence Brown dropped in a turn around jumper from the free throw line with 4 seconds remaining, to lift the Peoria Chiefs to 102-100 victory over the Cudahy Mods. Peoria, paced by the 28 points of Eddie Jackson and the 24 points of Leon Howard, moved to within 1 game of 1st place behind Cudahy. Joe Franklin of the Mods had 22 points, but the Mods shot only 30% from the floor.

Grand Rapids kept right in the thick of the title race by narrowly beating Waukegan 133-126 on the Tackers' home floor. Don Edwards, 32; Willie Bond, 28; and Dennis Stewart, 23, paced Grand Rapids to victory. Waukegan stayed in the game all the way, led by Mike Dyer, 24; Blanton Simmons 24, and the newly acquired Sam Williams, 18. Sam Williams, the most valuable player in the Big 10 two years ago, has recently joined the Waukegan Wizards and should help them in future games.

The Rockford Royals once again enjoyed their home crowds as they defeated the Decatur Bullets 139-130. Sterling Burke, 38, and Joe Levy, 23, led the scoring for the Royals. Hubie Marshall, the league leading scorer, pumped in 43 for the Bullets. Ajax Triplet had 31 and Art Crump 24. Triplet, of Western Michigan fame, was recently added to the Bullets' lineup.

The Peoria Chiefs face their toughest weekend of the year. On Saturday night they travel to Grand Rapids and on Sunday, they host the Cudahy Mods.

General Manager Joe Brown of Peoria, feels that if the Chiefs can win these two games, they will have the inside track to the league championship.

Mental Health Dinner Set At Glee Club

Members and friends of the Lake County Mental Health Society will gather on Wednesday, Jan. 28, for the Society's annual meeting and dinner.

The event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Swedish Glee Club, 621 Belvidere St., Waukegan. Dr. Levine will speak on "Communication and Mental Patient Rehabilitation." As the result of a study supported jointly by the National Institute of Mental Health and the Colorado State University Research Foundation, Dr. Levine is urging community mental health centers to pattern themselves after a school model, where patients would be "enrolled" rather than admitted, and "educated" rather than treated.

Road Hearings Set

Two public hearings have been set this week in Lake County by the Illinois Division of Highways. On Wednesday, January 21, the general public was invited to present its views on corridor locations under study for the relocation of U. S. 41 from near the intersection of Route 120 to the Wisconsin line. The district engineer says purpose of the hearing is to reduce the freeway location width from a four mile study area to a corridor of approximately one-half mile in width.

Interested persons were given an opportunity to present their ideas both oral and written. The meeting was held starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau auditorium on the Lake County fairgrounds, Rt. 45 north of 120, east of Grayslake.

Tonight (Thursday), at the same place and time, a public hearing is scheduled on corridor locations for Rte. 53. This proposed highway has been dubbed the Lake-Will Freeway, FA 61 and would run from the vicinity of Peterson Rd. and Route 83 northwesterly to Antioch and the state line. Purpose of the hearing Thursday is to reduce the corridor study area from six miles to approximately one-half mile or less.

Persons, or by mail or telephone to the Lake County Mental Health Center, 201 Liberty Street, Waukegan, telephone 623-4134.

The Lake County Mental Health Society is a United Fund agency. The Society is responsible for the support of the Lake County Mental Health Center, a state-aided psychiatric out-patient clinic providing diagnostic and treatment services for adults and children for whom private psychiatric services would be financially prohibitive. Thomas N. Davis, M.D. is the Center's Medical Director.

Jaycees Celebrate Their Week

The Lake Region Junior Chamber of Commerce, organized for the betterment of Antioch, Fox Lake and Lake Villa, this week is celebrating Jaycee Week.

And, according to Greg LaPlante, of Antioch, president of the Jaycees, a recruitment drive is under way for those between the ages of 21 and 35.

The Jaycees is a civic group organized exclusively for young men with the express purpose of leadership and management training through community service.

As Jaycees, these young men initiate and handle community action projects and a host of other activities.

In the State of Illinois, LaPlante points out, there are nearly 15,000 young men in the organization and nationwide the figure jumps to 300,000.

College fraternities have chapters on over 500 campuses in the United States and Canada.
